

Kids'

SNAKES

of Zambia

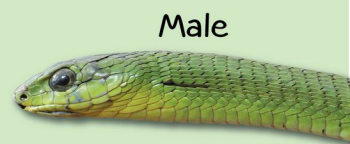

Black Mambas have inky black mouths

Black Mamba
Very Dangerous

Black-necked Spitting Cobra
Very Dangerous

Male

Kivuensis Male

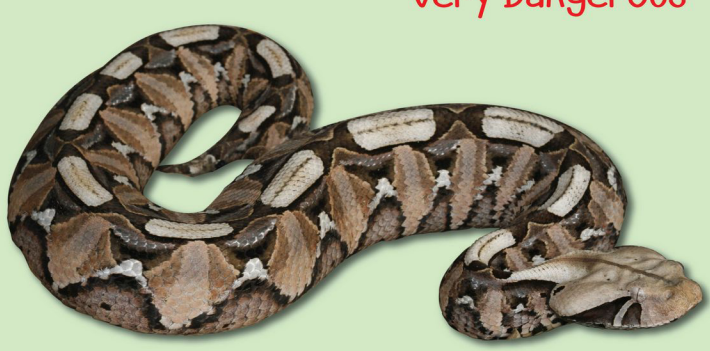

Female

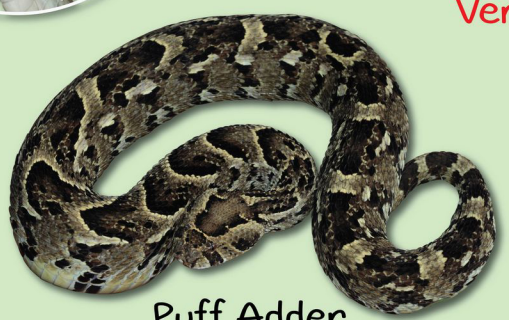

Boomslang
Very Dangerous

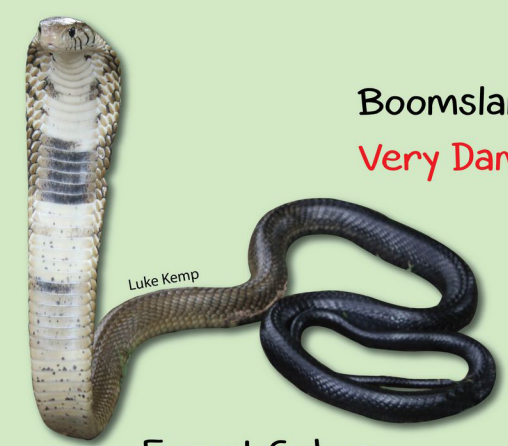

Juvenile

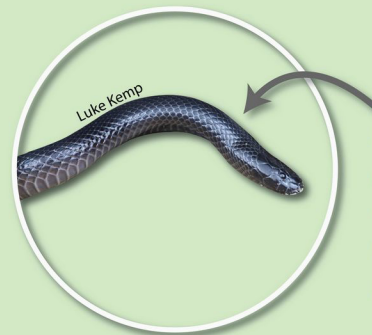

Gaboon Adder
Very Dangerous

Puff Adder
Very Dangerous

Forest Cobra
Very Dangerous

Stiletto Snakes often arch their necks when they are scared.

Bibron's Stiletto Snake
Venomous

Rhombic Night Adder
Venomous

Southern African Python
Can inflict a nasty bite

Oate's Vine Snake
Very Dangerous

Vine Snakes puff up their necks when they are threatened.

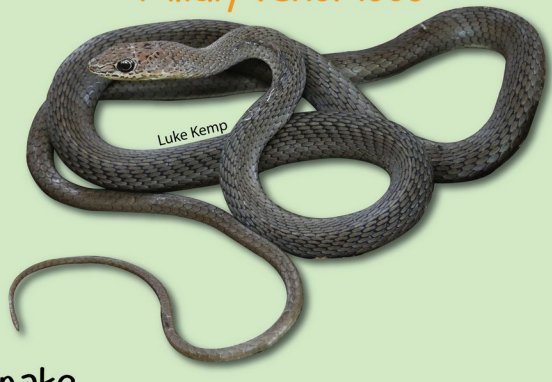

Herald Snake
Mildly Venomous

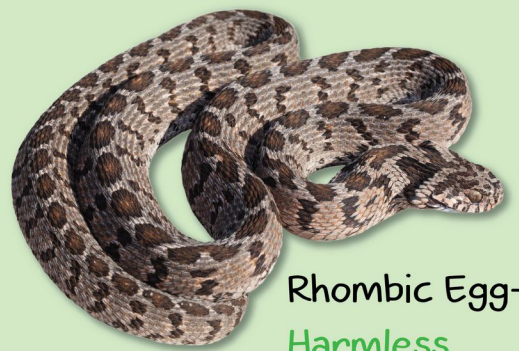

Tiger Snake
Mildly venomous

Olive Grass Snake
Mildly venomous

Angolan Green Snake
Harmless

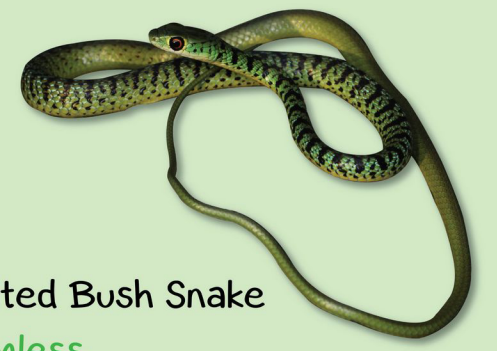

Rhombic Egg-eater
Harmless

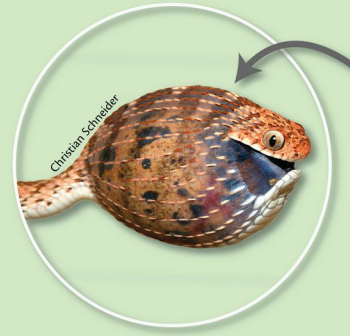

Common Wolf Snake
Harmless

Zambezi Blind Snake
Harmless

Spotted Bush Snake
Harmless

Egg-eaters can eat eggs three times the width of their head!

Brown House Snake
Harmless

If you see a snake, move 10 paces away and call an adult or teacher.